STATEMENT OF ADDITIONAL FACTS IN DISPUTE

NO.	ADDITIONAL FACTS IN DISPUTE	EVIDENCE
1.	Art Hale, Inc. ("AHI") manufactured "mag" wheels for auto companies, such as General Motors and Chrysler.	Deposition of Art Hale, Sr. ("Hale Depo"), (Pg)15:11-16:14.
2.	Art Hale, Sr.'s ("Hale") primary role and responsibility with AHI was that of a salesman.	Hale Depo., 42:18-24; 43:15-16; 117:10-25.
3.	Hale built AHI into a highly successful manufacturer during the late 1960s and early 1970s.	Hale Depo., 42:18-24; 43:15-16; 117:10-25.
4.	Hale estimates that, around the time he acquired the assets of Whittaker Corporation's ("Whittaker") automotive engineering division in 1975, AHI was generating approximately $10 million a year in sales.	Hale Depo., 20:13-23
5.	Whittaker took occupation of the property located at 13720 W. Western Avenue in Gardena, California (the "Property") in 1972, under the terms of a lease with the then owners.	KB Gardena Building, LLC Mediation Brief, 4:20-21

1	6.	Whittaker devoted occupation of the	KB Gardena Building, LLC
2		Property principally to the	Mediation Brief, 4:20-21; 5:19-22
3		manufacturing of automotive
4		wheels and other parts through a
5		division named Ansen Automotive
6		Division ("Ansen Automotive.")
7	7.	By March 1975, however, Ansen	Deposition of Art Hale, 26:24-25;
8		Automotive was apparently	27:1-11
9		experiencing financial difficulties,
10		and Hale was interested in acquiring
11		the Ansen name and some of the
12		parts being used at the Property.
13	8.	Hale and others therefore formed	Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated
14		Ansen, Inc. ("Ansen") to acquire	March 12, 1975, pg. 1, WHI
15		those assets.	00002277
16	9.	Ansen was incorporated on March	Articles of Incorporation of Ansen,

18		and sales agreement the same day	dated March 12, 1975, WHI
19		transferring the assets of Ansen	00002277 – WHI 00026321
20		Automotive to the newly formed
21		company.
22	10.	The total purchase price paid by	Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated

24		Automotive was $500,000, for	00002279 – WHI 0002279;
25		which AHI served as guarantor.	Guaranty dated March 12, 1975, WHI
26			00002504 – 2507
27
28

1	11.	Ansen Automotive had not	Deposition of Art Hale, 29:5-23; 32:
2		manufactured wheels in the same	3-24
3		manner as Hale's company, and
4		thus, upon taking over operations at
5		the Property in 1975, Ansen
6		promptly liquidated most of the
7		hard assets and remaining
8		equipment and proceeded to
9		manufacture wheels using its own
10		processes.
11	12.	Ansen permanently terminated	Declaration of Art Hale, Jr., 4:9-12;
12		operations in March 1977.	5:1
13	13.	Ansen has been defunct since 1977,	Declaration of Art Hale, Jr., 4:9-12;
14		and neither it nor any other entity in	5:1
15		which Hale had any interest has
16		conducted any operations at the
17		Property in the past thirty-three
18		years.
19	14.	Ansen Engineering's trademarks	Agreement of Purchase and Sale dated
20		and other intellectual property were	March 12, 1975, pgs. 1-2, WHI
21		among the assets sold – hence, the	00002277 – WHI 0002278
22		newly created company could
23		operate under the name "Ansen."
24	15.	Modern Wheel was formed in	California Secretary of State Business
25		August 1977, and American Mag,	Entity Detail for Modern Wheel,
26		Inc. ("America Mag") in July 1982.	Exhibit D, ARE MSJ; California
27			Secretary of State Business Entity
28

		Detail for American Mag, Inc., Exhibit E, ARE MSJ
16.	As of late 1987, AHI and Modern Wheel were wholly owned subsidiaries of American Mag.	Option Agreement dated November 4, 1987, pg. 7, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
17.	Hale was the sole shareholder of American Mag as of late 1987.	Option Agreement dated November 4, 1987, pg. 7, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
18.	By way of the agreement between Noranda Wheels, Inc. ("Noranda") and Hale (the "Option Agreement"), Noranda acquired the option to buy the stock of American Mag and AHI – but not Ansen – from Hale. The Option Agreement dated November 4, 1987, granted Noranda an option to acquire all the outstanding stock of American Mag no later than early 1988.	Option Agreement dated November 4, 1987, pg. 3, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
19.	Three basic representations and warranties within the paragraph 2.40 of the Option Agreement are indisputably restricted in nature, a fact that is particularly clear when the provisions are read in context and as a whole. ¹ The first merely states that there was no then	Option Agreement dated November 4, 1987, pgs. 33-34, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ

¹ In that regard, we note that ARE's Motion cites selective and incomplete portions of the paragraph, omitting language that reveals their limited scope.

1	existing litigation pending against
2	any of the Companies, a fact that is
3	not in dispute here. ² The second
4	provides that the conduct of the
5	“Companies of their respective
6	businesses as presently or ordinarily
7	conducted does not” violate any
8	existing federal, state, local or
9	foreign law, including
10	environmental protection laws and
11	regulations.
12	20. This representation, by its own	Option Agreement dated November 4,
13	terms, reaches only to the then	1987, pg. 3, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
14	existing operations of the
15	Companies, as that term is defined
16	in the Option Agreement – and ¶ 1.1
17	of the Option Agreement defined
18	the business of the Companies as
19	their then existing business.
20	21. The ARE asserts that Hale failed to	Option Agreement dated November 4,
21	disclose that AHI – as one of the	1987, pg. 34 Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
22	Companies being acquired – had
23	previously “generated, stored,
24	treated, transported, handled,
25	disposed of, or released any
26	hazardous substance or solid waste”

² Hale did present a list of ongoing litigation involving the Companies, and this representation was subject to that list.

1		in a manner that would give rise to
2		litigation.
3	22.	The Option Agreement, at ¶ 12.2,	Option Agreement dated November 4,
4		calls for Hale to indemnify Noranda	1987, pg. 71, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
5		or its successors against any loss,
6		cost liability or expense – notably
7		excluding attorneys fees – incurred
8		“by reason of the incorrectness or
9		breach of any of” representations,
10		warranties, covenants and
11		agreements provided for in the
12		contract.
13	23.	Paragraph 13.1.1 of the Option	Option Agreement dated November 4,
14		Agreement demands that Noranda	1987, pg. 73, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
15		or its successors negotiate with Hale
16		to agree on the extent to which the
17		claim, if valid, would constitute a
18		breach of the representations and
19		warranties, the measure of damages
20		to Noranda or its successors, and a
21		fair allocation of the expenses
22		subject to the indemnity clause.
23	24.	Paragraph 13.1.4 of the Option	Option Agreement dated November 4,
24		Agreement provides, in turn, that if	1987, pg. 75, Exhibit A, ARE MSJ
25		the parties cannot agree on the
26		extent of shared responsibility,
27		Noranda “shall have the
28

1		responsibility to direct the manner
2		in which the defense of such claim
3		shall be conducted” and “Hale * * *
4		shall be responsible only for such
5		part of the liability as they shall
6		have agreed to be their
7		responsibility or as is so determined
8		by a court of competent
9		jurisdiction.”
10	25.	In mid-2009, counsel for KB	Letter dated July 15, 2009 from Ervin
11		Gardena Building, LLC (“KB”)	Cohen & Jessup LLP to Ezra Brutzkus
12		contacted Hale about this pending	Gubner LLP
13		litigation and apparently discussed
14		the possibility of him sitting for
15		deposition.
16	26.	KB issued of a subpoena to Hale on	Subpoena to Testify at Deposition
17		July 14, 2009, directing that he	dated July 14, 2009
18		appear for deposition on August 11,
19		2009 in Palm Desert, California.
20	27.	On May 3, 2010, Mr. David	Letter dated May 3, 2010 from David
21		Giannotti, American Racing	A. Giannotti to Ezra Brutzkus Gubner
22		Equipment, LLC’s (“ARE”)	LLP
23		counsel, advised Hale’s counsel that
24		“[b]y this letter, American Racing,
25		LLC * * * hereby demands that Art
26		Hale immediately indemnify
27		American Racing for all fees and
28

1		costs incurred to date" with respect
2		to the litigation.
3	28.	Mr. Giannotti's demand was four
4		months too late to satisfy ARE's
5		obligations under the plain terms of
6		¶ 13.1.2.
7	29.	Hale did not accept Mr. Giannotti's	Letter dated June 11, 2010 from Ezra
8		demand.	Brutzkus Gubner LLP to David A.
9			Giannotti
10	30.	Hale's counsel, relying on the	Declaration of Todd M. Lander, para.
11		representations of KB's counsel to	9, pg. 5
12		the effect that Hale was Ansen's
13		former president and accepted
14		service on his behalf and in that
15		capacity. And Hale's counsel
16		advised KB that Ansen was a
17		suspended corporation and it
18		"cannot act on its behalf, and we are
19		not doing so now."

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. A party moving for summary judgment maintains both the initial and ultimate burden of demonstrating that there is "no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 56(c).

2. Summary judgment is a "drastic remedy," and one that denies a party's right to present his case at trial, and therefore the moving party bears a "heavy

1 burden" of demonstrating the absence of any triable issue of fact. See Nationwide
2 Life Ins. Co. v. Bankers Leasing Ass'n, Inc., 182 F.3d 157, 160 (2nd Cir. 1999).

3 3. In evaluating whether a party has discharged their burden, Federal 4 Courts apply a burden-shifting analysis. The moving party carries the initial 5 burden of showing a lack of material facts in dispute and, assuming it meets the 6 test, the burden then shifts to opposing party to establish that triable issues are 7 present - the final burden then rests with the movant. See Celotex Corp. v. Catrett,
8 477 U.S. 317, 322-323 (1986).

9 4. To defeat a motion for summary judgment, the opposing party must 10 only introduce sufficient evidence from which a trier of fact could draw reasonable
11 inferences that could be used to find in the opposing party's favor. See e.g.
12 Andrews v. United Airlines, 24 F.3d 39, 41 (9th Cir. 1994).

13 5. Any agreement "must be so construed to give effect to the mutual 14 intention of the parties as it existed at the time of contracting, so far as the same is 15 ascertainable and lawful." California Civil Code § 1636; see also Shaw v. Regents
16 of the Univ. of California, 58 Cal.App.4th 44, 54 (1997); and see San Joaquin v.
17 Workers Comp. App. Bd., 117 Cal.App.4th 1180, 1184 (2004).

18 6. Contracting parties' intent, where possible, should be drawn solely 19 from the language of the instrument. See California Civil Code §§ 1636 and 1638-
20 1639.

21 7. Courts may go beyond the four corners of an agreement and resort to 22 parol evidence only if: (1) a contract is reasonably susceptible to more than one
23 interpretation; and (2) competent extrinsic evidence is produced and admitted. See 24 Pacific Gas & E. Co. v. G.W. Thomas Drayage etc., 69 Cal.2d 33, 37 (1969);
25 accord, General Motors Corp. v. Superior Court, 12 Cal.App.4th 435, 441 (1993).

26 8. Under the doctrine of expressio unius est exclusio alterius the law
27 reflexively assumes as a result that, by including such clear and specific limiting 28

1 language, parties intend to exclude matters outside that restrictive provision –
2 namely, operations on properties other than the Listed Properties. See e.g., Steven
3 v. Fidelity & Cas. Co. of New York, 58 Cal.2nd 862, 871 (1963).

4 9. All contracts are required to be interpreted as a whole and with each
5 clause helping to interpret the other. See Civil Code § 1641 (“The whole of a
6 contract is to be taken together, so as to give effect to every part, if reasonably
7 practical, each clause helping to interpret the other.”)

8 10. For purposes of “construction of an instrument, the circumstances 9 under which it was made, including the situation of the subject of the instrument,
10 and of the parties to it, may also be shown, so that the judge be placed in the 11 position of those whose language he is to interpret.” California Code of Civil 12 Procedure § 1860; see also Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transit Authority v.
13 Shea-Kiewit-Kenny, 59 Cal.App.4th 676, 683 (1997).

14 11. California courts should interpret a contract to render all the terms
15 lawful, operative and capable of being carried into effect and avoiding any analysis
16 resulting in any portion of the agreement unlawful or of no effect. See Civil Code
17 §§ 1643 and 3541; see also 1 Witkin, Summary of California Law, 10th Ed. 2005,
18 Contracts § 750, p. 840 (citing Rest.2d, Contracts, § 203(a) and Civil Code §§ 19 1643 and 3541, “an interpretation which gives a reasonable, lawful, and effective
20 meaning to all the terms is preferred to an interpretation which leaves a part 21 unreasonable, unlawful or of no effect.”).
